

CRITICAL CONVERSATIONS ON DIVERSITY MATTERS EVENT SERIES

INTERSECTIONS OF EQUITY AND UNIVERSAL DESIGN FOR LEARNING (UDL) IN HIGHER EDUCATION WITH NICOLE TUCKER-SMITH

APRIL 18, 2022

12:30 PM CST

TX.AG/ODDIAPR22

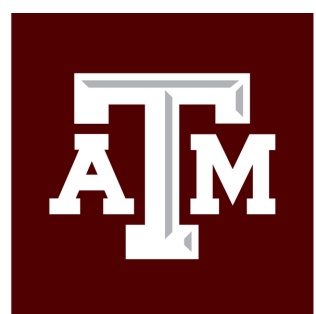

MEETING ID: 899 1945 6061 PASSCODE: 475726

Nicole Tucker-Smith is the Founder and CEO of Lessoncast Learning, a leading technology-supported platform that helps schools put equity-related professional learning into classroom practice. She is a former teacher, supervisor of parent support services, principal, and systemwide coordinator of professional development and training for Baltimore County Public Schools.

In addition, Tucker-Smith is co-author of Supercharge Your Professional Learning: 40 Concrete Strategies to Improve Adult Learning, which provides practical how-to information for applying the UDL Guidelines to professional learning experiences. She is an international presenter on UDL and a member of the CAST National Faculty.

Nicole also leads the Jumpstart PD Network, a community for equity-minded educators to work smarter and more efficiently in designing impactful PD. This network includes communities of practice focused on topics including UDL implementation, teaching for equity, and designing high-quality distance learning experiences.

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY

Organization Development
& Diversity Initiatives

Contact Patrice French, pfrench@tamu.edu for more information